

The World Wide Workshop and Knight Foundation in collaboration with Entertainment Software Association, Adobe, Silicon Valley Education Foundation, Boys & Girls Club of Silicon Valley, and Oak Grove School District announce

GLOBALORIA Globey Awards

Celebrating Excellence in Game Design in Silicon Valley

Grand Prize: Game Designer Kit (Laptop with Flash Software) for each winner!

Finalists: Drawing Tablets for each team member!

Register By: February 1, 2012

FINAL GAMES DUE: May 22, 2012

All Globaloria students making games are eligible to enter.

Winners will be chosen based on

- How well the game works (Technical quality)
- How well the game-making process is presented (Production quality)
- How well the game represents subject knowledge and facts (Research quality)
- How well the game teaches subject content (Content quality)
- How well the game is designed (Artwork and Animation quality)
- How well the team collaborates (Teamwork quality)

<http://www.globaloria.org/competitions>

GOOD LUCK!

GLOBALORIA GAMES INVENT • BUILD • SHARE

2011-2012 Rules and Regulations

GLOBALORIA Globey Awards

1. All Globaloria students in Silicon Valley creating educational games are eligible to enter.

2. Winners will be chosen based on

- How well the game-making process is presented (Production quality)
- How well the game represents educational knowledge and facts (Research quality)
- How well the game works (Technical quality)
- How well the game teaches educational content (Content quality)
- How well the game is designed (Artwork & Animation quality)
- How well the team collaborates (Teamwork quality)

3. From registration until submission of final game, demonstrate what you learned via frequent posts on your team page, learning log, and blog. Share your content often to raise your score.

- Judges will evaluate the entire game-creation process by looking at team pages and blogs.
- We encourage submissions made by teams.
- Upload files and post them on your team page and write game details as you go.
- Show how your team's idea became a game!
- Use your blog to reflect on your game topic, teamwork, and game making experience. What are you learning?

4. Follow the Registration, Submission Process and Milestone Dates:

- Upload and embed each milestone on your TEAM PAGE, by the date below, then go to <http://www.globaloria.org/competitions> to alert the judges that your entry is ready.

Registration: February 1, 2012

Paper Prototype: February 15, 2012

Game Demo: March 16, 2012

Presentation: May 18, 2012

Final Game: May 22, 2012

Prizes:

- Grand Prize: Game Designer Kit (Laptop and Adobe Flash Software) for each team member!
- Finalists: Drawing Tablet for each team member!

More information and to register:

<http://www.globaloria.org/competitions>

GOOD LUCK!

GLOBALORIA GAMES INVENT • BUILD • SHARE